ADVANCE IN REAL ESTATE.-The spring has opened auspiciously upon our city. While our merchants and mannfacturers are overrun with business, real estate is appreciating in value with a steady and healthy advance. Yesterday afternoon the following Broadway property was sold at public ev C. C. Spencer:

Two lots, Broadway, between Brook and Floyd, each 35 feet front by 165 deep, sold at $40 per foot. One lot, 521/2 by 200, north side of Broadway, between Floyd and Preston, $49 per foot.

One lot, same size, east of and adjoining the above, $46 per foot.

Two lots, 35 by 190, Jacob street, between Floyd and Preston, $20 per foot.

The competition was unusually spirited and the prices indicate an advance in the value of the prop erty of thirty or forty per cent. over what it could have been sold for last year.

THE ECLIPSE.—Suspecting there would be a failure, and not wishing to disappoint our readers, we did not announce an eclipse yesterday afternoon, as put down in the almanaes. Our cotemporaries fell into the error, however, and their select-circle of readers smoked their glasses in valu. It is gratify high that the disappointment was not very general, being confined pretty much to the readers of other city papers.—Democrat.

The eclipse was distinctly visible some minutes before sunset and until sunset. The sun went down with its lower part as flat as a paragraph in the Democrat. Perhaps if the Democrat's local editor had looked, he might have seen two eclipses. When Democratic locals are going to look for eclipses, they shouldn't use the wrong kind of glass.

THE REGISTRY SYSTEM .- The New York Times hat of $112 16 of money coming to that ofstate; that of $112 16 of money coming to that of-fice, but lost during the month of February through the insecurity of the mails, $83 16, or two-thirds, was in registered letters. There seems to be very little doubt that the registry system actually facilisates fraud on the part of the post office officials by pointing out the letters which contain money, and which it is therefore an object to steal.

We presume there is no doubt that the registry aystem has proved an utter failure. Under it the has been able to obtain. people have paid an additional amount of postage only to render the transmission of their letters still more insecure. It ought to have been abolished by the late Congress and will probably be abolished by the next, but the question is what are we to have in its place. The amount of money lost from the mails before the adoption of the registry system seemed to render some remedy indispensably necessary, and, now that one expedient has been tried and has failed, what is to be tried next? Would it not be better to have no Government mail at all than continue to have one to which folks cannot safely trust their money-letters?

The New York Times, after having given some consideration to the matter, says:

The New 10rk 11mes, atter naving given some consideration to the matter, says:

The English Money Order System is the next resort, and we understand that the late Postmaster-General Indicated his willingness to try it upon a limited scale and as an experiment. But Congress adjourned without making any provision for even such a trial of it—and it must also be confessed that the system is open to many objections in this country which do not exist in England. There every postoffice is a draft office, postmasters are kept in during good behavior, bank notes are received in payment of mougy orders, and the extent of the country to be covered by the system is comparatively limited. Here bank notes could not safely be received in payment of money orders; specie could not be procured in small towns, except at a heavy shave; drafte on distant offices could be realized only on similar terms; postmasters go ont with every new Administration, good and bud alike; much heavier bonds would be required; the business of the Gentral department would be largely increased, and a great variety of other obstacles would be encountered in the application of the system here, which are not felt abroad.

In spite of all these objections, it is quite likely that the most corder system should be tried. Something, it is very evident in the plan of remitting money by mail, which should upon examination be deemed the simplest and the best, we are confident that the ingennity of our countrymen would be plan of remitting money by mail, which should upon examination be deemed the simplest and the best, we are confident that the ingennity of our countrymen would be accomplished now are certainly important enough to warrant the offer of a liberal reward on the part of Good baddes, for the dimple suggestion in 1743, that the mails could be accomplished now are certainly important enough to warrant the offer of a liberal reward on the part of Government, for some means of rendering safe and reliable the transmission of money by mail.

This is poetry of a most exquisite order: [For the Louisville Bulletla.] THE BEAUTIFUL WORLD IN THE REALMS OF

here's a beautiful world in the realms of sleep, Where the flowers are brighter than earth ever knew—
And the air is as soft as the south winds that sweep
Through rose-haunted woodlands all dripping with dew:
There are gardens and shrines and cool-gashing streams,
Where steep-folded lilies so daintily lie, Where steep-folded lilies so daintily He,
There are rich fashing clouds, with exquisite gleams,
For the Angel of Dreams hath painted the sky;
There music and perfume entrance all the sonl
With lotus blooms gathered from Lethean seas,
While beauty's soft purple enhances the whole,
As blossoms are brightened by golden-ringed bees.

Through the glow of the sunlight, the halm of the air, Come low and prolonged, like a wild woodland not When seeking the echoes long slumhering there. As the cool-misted Night, with star-jewelled hand, Droops her mantle to hide where daylight has flown she woos you to rest in this slumberous land, So fragrant with lilles and roses o'crblown;

Tis there Faucy dwells with her glittering train, Her plulous of silver and azure unrolled, Gaily weaving bright links of thought round the brain, Till the soul is eucircled with fetters of gold; There are shadowy shapes in this heautiful clim Their soft arms enfold us, their voices so dear Come dreamy and low like a musical chime, And make the heart tremble with many a tear:

There the mald who has wept through weary, long he Till her cheeks are as pale as pearl-tinted shells, Braids the lengths of her hair with gay bridal flowers And lists to the chimes of her own marriage bells— The mother, who folded the little white hands When her darling fell softly and sadly to sleep, forgets the dark grave in these lethean lands. Dreams the angels have brought her the lost one to keep

And the lover who deemed the roses of June Too sombre to garland a being so fair As the bride now lying beneath the cold moon A saint laid to sleep 'neath the altar of prayer, steeps his soul into dreams of a beauteous night, When the moonlight was starred with droppings of gold And sweet lips so winning, so witchingly bright. Were charming his pulses with rapture untold;

The stranger, when dying in darkuess and gloon,
Away from his home and his kindred so dear,
Is haunted by dreamings of suulight and bloom And low, tender volces, no other may hear; There is each lovely form, each long treasured one. Looking out from the Past, now fading and din-Oh, surely the portals of lieaven are won
While memory is chanting her beautiful hymn;
And the lone orphan-child, with dream-shrouded eyes,

Sadly sleeping with tears on her sweet, pale face blown. Hears a low-soothing voice float down from the skies— 'Tis the lost mother's song, her dear missing tone— How her lips gather back the old sunny smile And her cheeks the faint hue of spring's early flowers, Like April when sobling in shadows awhile, Then flushing to beauty' neath suu-rifted showers. All adown this bright shore we hear spirits sing,

Though the dust has manifed their lips many years; The heart-touching memories they tenderly bring Serve to brighten our smiles or hallow our tears; Sleep, dusky with clouds and his plulons all furice, Brings a chalice of healing to comfort our wor, like an angel come down to gladden the world, He folds us in dreams of the sweet "Long ago." ."

ORATORIO .- The lovers of music in our city will be gratified to learn that it is contemplated to treat them to an oratorio. The performers will comprise all the best and most practiced singers among us, both amatenr and professional. The whole will be under the direction of Mr. E. W. Gunter, of whose skill as a musician and ability as a leader it is scarce ly necessary to speak. Our citizens are indebted to this gentleman for much of their musical taste and its gratification, and it is confidently expected that on this occasion his efforts will achieve an eminent success. The music selected is from that magnificent composition, Haydn's Creation.

The concert will be held in St. Paul's Chnrch, where it is thought the music can be most effectively given, and the greatest number of hearers comfortably accommodated. The performance will take place in Easter week, about the middle of April, and it is hoped will be attended by all who can ap preciate the genius of the great composer.

SAILING OF THE TENNESSEE.—This steamer left New York on Monday for Nicaragua. She had on board about two hundred cabin and a like number of steerage passengers, mostly, it is said, bound for California. Only some ten or fifteen were known to be destined for Nicaragua, or to join General Walker. Major Bradley, one of the most efficient officers of the latter, and his accredited business agent in New York, is said to have been among them, his intention being to return, in a few weeks, to that city.

STEAMBOAT DISASTERS .- This is certainly the eason of steamboat disasters. Within less than a week we have had to record the loss of the Belfast, Grand Turk, Shotwell, Amazonia, and A. L. Davis, besides several minor mishaps to other boats. This morning we announce the burning of the Sultana. and the sinking of the Grapeshot and Eau Claire. Our river reporter gives all the particulars that he

The Auditor of State of Indiana has given notice of his intention to sell the securities on deposit in his office, of the Savings Bank of Indiana, Bank of North America at C inton, and the Bank of Albion. The securities consist of State stocks, and will be sold in New York on the 1st of April. A dividend will be declared upon the circulation of these banks, payable on and after the 1st of may next.

The Brothers Passo, whose arrest at New York on a charge of smuggling $2,000 worth of rough diamonds, rubies, aud agates, was chronicled the other day, were discharged on their own recognizance at the close of the week. Most of the supposed precious stones turned out to be common pebbles, and the whole lot not to be worth more than $75 at the utmost.

More Coal.-The towboat Guthrie arrived yesterday with about 65,000 bushels of coal. We see it stated that nine towboats, with sixty-two barges, containing 400,000 bushels of coal, have departed from Pittsburg on the present rise. About 50 pairs of coalboats will also get out, containing altogether not far short of 1,500,000 bushels

The river was at a stand last evening, with 8 fee 7 inches water in the canal, and 5 feet 9 inches on the falls. The weather continues clear.

Two Steamboat Collisions -- Boats Sunk -- A tele graphic dispatch from Portland, received last night, announces that the steamers J. H. Oglesby and Grapeshot came in collision below Portland, by which the latter was sunk. From a passenger on the Grapeshot we learn that her passengers were all at supper when the accident occurred, and that the Grapeshot ran into the Oglesby. The former was immediately run to the Kentucky shore, where she sunk, and the Oglesby landed on the Indiana shore. From this it is inferred that the latter must also have sustained damage. The Ogleshy had just left. Portland for New Orleans, and the Grapeshot was from St. Louis bound to Pittsburg. She will doubtless be raised. She is an unfortunate boat, this being the third time she has been sunk in a year.

The other collision occurred in the Mississippi, below St. Louis, between the steamers South America and Eau Claire, by which the latter was sunk The Eau Claire was on her first trip, from Pittsburg for the Chippewa river, in Wisconsin, on which she was to run. She was heavily laden.

The Sinking of the A. L. Davis .- From our Nashville exchanges we learn that this steamer was sunk in ten feet water at Gallatin Landing. She was from Nashville, bound for Waitsboro', on the Upper Cumberland. The boat will be a total loss. She was heavily laden with groceries and dry goods, amounting to about $50,000, which was partially insured in the various offices in Nashville. The boat was owned by the Messrs. Crouch, and was worth $5,000 or $6,000.

The Loss of the Belfust ..- The Memphis news of the 21st has the following particulars of the loss of the Belfast:

On Tuesday morning last, as the Belfast was ascending the chute of Island 66, and just as she was rounding out at the head of the island, she struck the har and swung round hard and fast upon the bar. Every exertion was made to get her off, without avail. As a last resort, Capt. Church ordered the hands io throw off the railroad iron, amounting to 250 tons, but it had no effect. The water was falling rapidly, and she began to settle at the how.—

ing rapidly, and she began to settle at the bow.—
Word was immediately sent to this place, and the Ingomar took down a barge.
In the meantime the Cora came up, and, putting out her anchors above, she dropped down, so that by placing a flat boat between the two boats, the freight could be ralled off of the Belfist out the Coracould be rolled off of the Belfast on to the Cora. Everything was saved, with the exception of four or five casks of rice. On Thursday morning the Belfast began to take water, and by night she was so badly bent that a person standing in her social hall could not see any one in the ladies' cabin. The river fell so rapidly that when the the Cora left, the iron which had been thrown overboard was almost dry. The rate at which the river is falling will soon leave her dry, and her machinery and furniture will be saved.

Blanche Lewis Sold .- The steamer Blanche Lewis vas sold at Paducah on Saturday, for a division. Capt. P. II. Mitchell, of Nashville, was the pur chaser, at between $8,000 and $9,000. Captain M. will run her in the Cumberland trade.

For New Orleans .- Captain Sturgeon's elegant steamer Empress will leave for New Orlcans this evening, without fail. The E. is one of the very finest passenger packets on the river. No officers stand higher than Capt. S. and Mr. Smith, the clerk

The new and fine steamer Woodford will also leave for New Orleans this evening. The Adams arrived last night, and we were favored by Messrs. Shaler and Gorsuch, her attentive clerks, with a very interesting memorandum, which is published in another column.

Washington, March 23, 1857.

Several days ago a gentleman from the East came to Washington in pursuit of a high and lucrative appointment, and at his heels were at least a score of patriotic politicians to back him, expecting to participate in the patronage involved. He was re-markably sanguine, and boasted to his friends that he was sure of the Executive distinction. And not only this, but he applied to a noted caterer, and had only this, but he applied to a noted caterer, and had a splendid dinner prepared, at which to celebrate his good fortune. But, after the adjournment of the Cabinet, it was ascertained that the office had been given to another. The dinner was not eaten. The disappointed Democrat returned home the next day, man an appointed Democrat returned nome the next day, more fully impressed than ever with the truth that all that glitters is not gold.

To-day there was another rush of New York politicians into the President's House, and the several delegations had separate interviews with Mr. Buchanan. The Cabinet were engaged in deliberating mone that subject, and probably this evening public upon that subject, and probably this evening public expectation upon this point will be gratified.

Ex-Governor Geary has arrived in Washington, and is domiciled at Willard's Hotel. He is shortly to have an interview with the President in relation to his own affairs and those of the Territory of Kan-sas. Much speculation is indulged as to who will be his successor. Although some Sonthern men want one from the South selected for that important post, others from that section declare that they will be satisfied with a Northern man of "the right stripe." The matters involved are extremely delicate, and will demand the mature deliberation of the Administration which doubtless they will receive istration, which doubtless they will receive.

The health of the President is still delicate; he still being affected with the sickness which he contracted while at the National Hotel. It is singular that the exact cause of the disease, with which at least a hundred persons were attacked at that estab-lishment, has not been ascertained. The Board of Health says the sickness was owing to the sewers, while physicians who have attended the afflicted, confidently assert that some mineral poison must have been mixed with the food and water. The malady does not readily yield to the prescribed remarkation.

The editor of the Union (Mr. Appleton) was a boarder at that hotel, and remains feeble from the disease. A report is current to-day that he will absent himself from the city for several months, in order to recruit his health.

It is an ascertained fact that the two California It is an ascertained fact that the two California Senators (Messrs. Gwin and Broderick) were not consulted with regard to the California offices. The appointment of ex-Governor John Bigler, of that State, as Minister to Chili, was a kind of compromise. Mr. Starkweather, of Ohio, the incumbent, has not been in the enjoyment of the dignity and the salary more than three years. Changes will be made in all of the foreign missions; and, therefore, the present Ministers might as well begin to "pack up" their effects and come home. "Resignations" might now be tendered to avoid the Administration the necessity of removal.

THE GUTHRIE DINNER .- Nothing could have been more appropriately conceived, and more handsomely executed, than the dinner at the Galt House last evening, in honor of ex-Secretary Guthrie. Between two and three hundred of our citizens participated in the festivities. They were of both leading parties, though chiefly of the Democratic.

The entertainment was a strong tribute to the public services and private worth of the distinguished ex-Secretary.

The dinner accorded with the reputation of the Galt House. That is certainly sufficient praise. Whatever is elegant, recherch, delightful, artistic, domestic, and comfortable, was provided. The Galt House even exceeded itself in its viands and

After the dinner had been served, the regular toasts were announced. In response to that in his honor, Mr. Guthrie spoke at some length with a great deal of feeling, and elicited enthusiastic applause. To another toast Jos. Holt, Esq., spoke with his usual eloquence. In response to a toast to the Nashville Railroad anterprise, Ex-Gov. Helm addressed the company in some interesting, instructive, and able remarks.

The company adjourned at an early hour. Hen. Wm. F. Bullock presided on the occasion, with L. L. Shreeve, Esq., as Vice President.

Additional details are anxiously expected, as it is believed their hiding places have been discovered.

B. Barker will be assisted in the collecting of debts due the Bulletin by J. M. and A. Gray east of Third street. It is to be hoped all persons indebted will be ready to settle their bills when presented, and not compel the collectors to call two or three times for the small amounts due.

LAND WARRANTS. - The Commissioner of the General Land Office claims that, where the price of land is raised by bidding, a land warrant cannot legally be laid; consequently all those warrants laid on such land (and the excess paid in money) must be taken up, and the money paid instead, viz: one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre. The decision will tend to reduce the value of land warrants.

YELLOW FEVER ON BOARD THE MERRIMAC.-We learn from a letter received by a gentleman in Charlestown from his son, on board the frigate Merrimac, that there had been thirty cases of yellow fever among the erew of that vessel, five of which were fatal, Purser McBlair, whose death we mentioned a few days since, being one of the victims.

THE VARIETIES.

A Great Wool Grower. - The Manchester Mirror says that Mr. Abraham Melvin, of Weare, New Hamshire, recently sold 25,000 lbs. of Spanish Merino wool, to parties in Boston, for 60 cents a pound, amounting to $15,000. The wool was of his own raising and part of a three years' stock.

Cousins .- The Gloucester Telegraph says that, at wedding which took place in that town on Sunday evening last, there were sixty-two cousins pres-

The following oath is said to have been adminis tered in the Iowa Legislature to a little boy ten years of age, chosen to fold up documents:

You do solemnly swear to support the Constitution of the United States and of this State, and to fold papers to the best of your ability, so help you God.

The Legislature of Maine have passed a general banking law, providing for the reincoporation of sixty-five of the banks now in operation. The new law does away with the special charter feature of the banking system, reducing the whole to one code; whereby banks must make monthly statemeuts for publication instead of semi-annually. Their circulation is limited to fifty per cent. beyond their capital; they are required to keep on hand only five per cent, of their espital in specie.

The space that would require thirty-four mea, with one inspector and two superintendents, and costing $400 per week, it is claimed, can be cleaned, and kept clean. with one machine, aided by six carts, for less than £150.

Death of a Navy Officer.—Capt. P. C. Wederstrandt, late of the United States Navy, died at New Orleans on the night of the 12th last., aged 78 years. He was the second student entered at Georgetown College, D. C., Judge Gatson, of N. C., having been the first. He received his warrant as Midshipmau in 1797, and was attached to the Constellation, and coatianed in the service until 1810. He removed to Lonisiana (from Maryland, where he was born) in 1818, and has resided in the State ever since. State ever since.

The Short Tree .- According to Humboldt there is a tree in the South Sea Islands which produce ready-made shirts. The natives cut off pieces of the tree about two feet long, from which they deam off the fibrous bark, as boys draw off the bark of chestnuts to make whistles. Each man selects a tree near his own diameter, so that the shirt may be a good it. When the bark is off, they cut a hole in each side to admit the arms. The shirts do not require any washing, starching, and ironing, and a more convenient article for loalers could not be imagiaed. The same conatry produces bread fruit, so that a fellow may get his board and clothes gratis.

American Travelers Attacked by Bedouins.—Dr. I. B. Hank, of Baltimore, I. A. Lehman, of Philadelphia, and Hyam Joseph, of California, left Jernsalem on the 26th of January last for Cairo, and on the 2d of February encamped in the vicinity of a large number of Bedouins of Wada Musa, who frightened the dragoman lay their exprising defrightened the dragoman by their exorbitant demade. The Americans finally commenced negotia-tions with the principal Sheikh, who denuanded eight hundred plasters. This was not paid, and the Arabs became so violent that the Americans drew their pistols and thus held them at bay. Finally the Americans retired to their tents and the Arabs with-Americans retried to their tents and the Arabs withdrew, but unexpectedly returned and commenced firing upon the tent. Dr. Hank was slightly wounded on the knee and breast, and George, the cook, in the hip severely. In the end, the Americans, to save themselves, were compelled to hand over to the robbers nearly two thousand phasters. They thea set out on their journey and reached Hebron on the 9th of February.

Becky Birchbud thinks it provoking for a woman, who has been working all day meading her husband's old coat, to find a love letter from another woman ia the pocket .- Er.

Perfect nonsense. There is not a woman under heaven but would find the letter before she began to meud the coat—then it would not be mended at all .- Boston Post.

A married lady, who was in the habit of spend-A married may, who was in the habit of spending most of her time in the society of her neighbors, happened one day to be takea ill, and sent her husband in great baste for a physician. The husband ran a short distance and then returned, exclaiming, "My dear, where shall I find you when I get back?"

French Undulating Railroad.—A railroad is pro-osed to be constructed near Lyons, France, on steep posed to be constructed near Lyons, France, on steep gradients, with a view to avoid deep entings and embankments or tunuels, and to test a new system of carriage invented by M. Bourget, civil engineer, for working it. A break placed under the carriage holds on to a third rail when the train stops, but when in motion the part which seizes on the rail opens by the effect of the onward movement, and closes with great force the moment the train ceases to op forward. to go forward.

A Fat Sulary.—The pay of the collector of this port, for the first quarter in 1857, was 92 cents. That is one of the offices to which the rotation principle might be applied without much damage to anybody but the person who was rotated in. Newburyport Herald.

Mrs. Cochran, daughter of Gen. Schnyler, of Revolutionary fame, and whose husband was a physician in the American army, and a favorite with Washington, has been awarded ten thousand dollars by Congress a just though livering by Congress—a just, though limited, rocognition of the patriolic services of her relative. The old lady resides at Oswego, N. Y.

The Mystery Solved.—Reynolds, the dramatist, observing the thinness of the house at one of his pieces, said: "I suppose it is owing to the war?" "No," was the reply, "it is owing to the piece."

A Bushop in Pharaphernalia.—A funny story is told of the way in which even archbishops may be embarrassed by the amplitude of the female fashions of the day. A letter from Milan says that the Archbishop of Milan, meeting the Empress of Austria on the staircase of the Ducmo, by some unlucky specifical the came so entangled in her majority's drawn accident became so entangled in her majesty's drapery as to be extricated only by tearing away some ells of the redundant folds, to the immense diversion of the young and august victim, whose smiles at last lapsing in dowaright laughter, increased the embarrassment of the venerable prelate.

MANSLAUGHTER BY AN AMERICAN PHOTOGRA-PHER.-A singular case of manslanghter is reported in the London Morning Star of March 3, substantially as follows: It appears that a woman named Eliza Bunn, forty years of age, in company with another woman, called at the rooms of Alexander Hemmet Clark, an American photographic artist, to have a little boy's likeness taken. After it was finished, some words ensued respecting the payment of the cash. Clark ordered the women to leave the room, which they declined to do without the portrait, when a regular fight ensued between them. Clark at the time had a small hammer in his right hand, and while deceased was struggling with him he struck her with it upon the head. He was first arrested for the assault merely, for which he was fined twenty shillings and costs, but it afterwards appeared that the wound with the hammer had fractured the skull of the woman, of which wound she died in a day or two. Clark was then arrested on the charge of manslanghter.

EXPENSES OF RELIGION .- We find in one of our exchanges a very curious calculation, based upon the statistics of the last United States census, showing the relative expense to each iadividual member of the different churches in maintaining his church. The estimate shows the relative cost as follows: A Baptist or Methodist three dollars and for'y cents, a Presbyterian seven dollars, a Congregationalist ten dollars, a Roman Catholic fourteen dollars, an Episcopalian eighteen dollars, a Reformed Dutch twenty-two dollars, a Unitarian twenty-three dollars.

MAIL ROBBER CAUGHT .- Finley, the fellow who robbed the mail at Aberdeen, Ark., has been caught. No money was found aboat his person when arrested, though he was observed to have a fifty dollar bill on the morning after the robbery and previous to his leaving. When overtaken, he was about crossing the river, and it is believed he threw all the money he had into the water.

THE WHEAT CROP.

MEADE Co., Ky., March 24, '57. MESSES. EDITORS: Noticing in various papers a partial failure of the wheat crop in many of the wheat growing States, iaduces me to say something of the prospect with us. Owing to the severe drouth last fall, our farmers did not coameacc sowiag until very late, consequently the wheat did not take sufficient root to withstand the severity of the winter and frequent freezings and thawings of the spring; and during this month we have had but little or no rain and our fields that were quite green in February are now almost as bare of wheat and as dusty as the Some have but little prospect of rais-public roads. Some ling over half a crop. The scarcity of corn and severe winter have killhog crop will be shorter than that of '56. Hopiag to hear better reports from other parts of our State,

DEATH IN THE GREEN ROOM .- On Satarday evening, while one of the largest and most brilliant au-diences ever seen in America was enjoying the splen-did performance of Linda di Chamouni in the Philadelphia Academy of Music, there was a scene of artling contrast behind the curtain. A very worthy member of the female chorus, whose services from her long experience, were very valuable, died suddenly in the green room, just as the opera was about to begin, of disease of the heart. It was a shocking and solemn incident, and created a great deal of agitation among the performers, especially among the choristers, who had so long been associa-ted with her and accustomed to follow her directions in the performances. It was sometime before the singers could recover their composure sufficiently to enable them to go on. But the vast andience before the curtain kaev nothing of the sad tragedy that had occured, and it was not deemed advisable to inform them of it. There not deemed advisable to inform them of it. There was a delay of tea or fifteen minutes in the commencement of the performance, but then the curtain rose, and the Swiss villagers appeared, smiling and gay in their rustic costume, and no one thought that within a few yards of them lay the corpse of one of their number, arrayed like them in the bright dress of the curton. The prima dopma and all dress of the cunton. The prima donna and all forced down the emotions that the tragedy excited, and went through with their parts with apparent and went through with their parts with apparent composire. The audience were more than usually enthusiastic and gay. Cheers and bravos greeted the prima donna, and bright bouquets were showered at her feet. To the few who had heard of the grim intrusion of the Kiag of Terrors iato the temple of mirth and festivity, the scene before the curtain had ia it something of the awful. It is not often that a festal and a funeral scene are brought iato such close contact.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The facts developed are as follows: McClintock, the deceased, was sitting with his family at his resideace, near Boonville, on the evening referred to, and for some reason went to the door, and, while standing there, was shot in the right side. Eight rifle balls pene-trated his side discharged probably from a musket. was shot ia the right side. Eight rifle balls pene-trated his side discharged probably from a musket. McCin ock turned to enter his dwelling, and fell dead. Three men, Minas Johnson, Teanison, and one whose name we did not learn, have been arrested. The evidence against them is not conclusive of their guilt. The bullets taken from the body of the deceased had been hammered in order to prevent their recognition, and all the circumstances attending the killing prove that it was a premeditated murder.—Evansville Journal, 27th.

The large ribbon and millinery honse of Joln Devin & Co., Chambers street, New York, failed on Saturday. Their liabilities are stated at $250,000. The loss will fall heavily on French importers.

stances, proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, loerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland seattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the eat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vicor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the slotk, weak, and low spirited it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION.

The great popularity of this delightful Arona has luduced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CITY CHARTER.

RESOLVED by the General Council of the City of Louisville, That the Legislature of Kentucky, with the concurrence of a majority of the qualified voters of said city voting thereon at the general election in April, 1857, are hereby requested to repeal so much of the Charter of said city as relates to the number and mode of electing City and Railroad Tax Collectors, and adopt in lieu thereof a general clause granting to the Council authority to regulate this department of the city government as will best advance the general interest, and also to enact such lection of taxes.

2d. To repeal so much of section 9 article 3 of the City Charter as relates to the pay of members of the General Coancil. 3d. Also to amend said Charter by adding an additional section, granting to the General Council authority to issue warrants as evidence of debt against ordinances as may be necessary to enforce the col-

the city, and repeal so much of said Charter as now prohibits this from being done.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS .- Friday, March 27 .- Wm. Clark is a Hoosier of the simplest and clearest verdancy, who came to the city yesterday and invested his loose change in a bottle of whisky, with which he was found in the upper part of town. Discharged.

Ed. Johnson, for stealing a lot of carpenters' tools from Lewis Zweidorff and Jeremiah Holling-hau. Case continued until to-morrow.

John and George Gibson and W. Cunningham were charged with stealing several pieces of casting from Bunn & Lacy's planing-mill. The Judge, after administering a very severe reprimand, discharged them. An old man named McLaughlin, who keeps a second-hand hardware establishment, was presented to the court for having purchased the iron knowing it to be stolen. He was held to bail in $200 to be of good behavior.

Walker West, all the way from Stamping Ground, Scott county, had passed a $1 counterfeit note on a man named Yarborough. Other bills of the same character were found upon him. Required to give bail in $400 to appear at the circuit court.

We are indebted to Adams's Express for New Orleans, St. Louis, and Evansville papers.

The Saking of the Grapeshot .- It appears that it was not the J. H. Oglesby which sunk the Grapeshot, but the Gov. Powell. The collision occurred about 6 o'clock, between the bend of the river and Portland, and was evidently caused by a misunderstanding of the signals given by the pilots. The Powell run into the larboard side of the Grapeshot, making a large hole in her, but her officers succeeded in running her up on the Kentucky bank. The water is over her cabin floor aft and over her larboard guard forward, but the starboard side of her bow is lying up on the bank and dry. As the river is falling, she will soon be left dry, and can then be repaired and launched. Some of the cotton on the deck of the Grapeshot floated off. She was from Memphis bound to Pittsburg, and the following is a list of her cargo:

Per Grapeshot from Memphis: 34 bales cotton, Robbin & Pomeroy, Cluciunati; 25 do do, Mason & Bro, Baltimore; 3 coils bine and lot strs, Jones & Cooley, Pittsburg; 418 bis cotton, Kouncdy, Childe & Co, 37 do do, Merrick & Co, 28 has classware, J B Lyon & Co, Pittsburg; 1 box books, Webb, Gill & Levering, Louisville, 1 trunk, T P Jaiues, Bishor cm

The river has commenced falling, but up to noon to-day it had only receded an inch or two.

The Empress .- This elegant and fast steamer, commanded by Capt. Sturgeon, arrived before day this morning. To her attentive clerks we are indebted for favors. The Empress will leave positively this evening.

Our friend Palacio, captain of the Empire, has also our thanks for favors. The Empire will also leave this evening.

The Chancellor has also arrived, and the Baltic will certainly be here this evening. Both leave for New Orleans to-morrow evening.

The Diamond has arrived, and the John Gault will be here to-night. The Diamond will leave for Owensboro to-morrow evening.

The St. Louis News of Thursday evening says: Messrs. Eads & Nelson yesterday dispatched one of their sub-marines to the wreck of the steamer Belfast, sunk in the Mississippi river a few days since. These gentlemen also sent yesterday the sub-marine No. 8 to the wreck of the steamer Amazon, sunk a short distance up the Missouri river. About the time of starting, they received another dispatch from Meniphis, requesting them to send one of their boats down there for the purpose of pumping out the A. L. Shotwell, sunk in Chute 40, in the Mississippi (Hen and Chickens). Most of the cargo of the Shotwell, it is thought, will be saved.

THE NEW YORK MARRIAGE CASE-Lein vs. Bo ker .- This case, which has occasioned much attention, has been decided in favor of Dean, the husben 1. It will be seen from the following that the young couple i sten 1 to take up their residence in this city. Judge Davies, of the supreme court of New York, before whom the case was heard, rcmarked in substance in giving his decision:

marked in substance in giving his decision:

Judge Davies, in delivering the decision of the court, said that he considered it due to the parties and to the public to state that he considered it his duty to have several intercepts whether she had been restrained of her liberty; that in these intercepts she had uniformly stated to him that she was not; that this man was her own free choice, and she had married him of her own will; that he had found her a young lady of delicacy of demeaner, who was actuated by a double duty toward her parents and to the hushand she had chosen for herself. Having satisfied himself that meitherforce nor fraud had been used, that the parties were of lawful age and were of sound mind, it was his duty to pronounce this a walld marriage willout any reference to execution of station, for all were equal in the eye of the law.

The lady was capable of entering into the contract, and it is the duty of the Judge to say that it is binding upon her, as neither force nor fraud had been practiced. An order must be entered dissolving the injunction.

abe duty of the Judge to say that it is binding upon her, as neither force nor fraud had been practiced. Au order must be entered dissolving the injunction.

AFTER THE LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

Immediately after the Judge had rendered his decision, and before the adjournment of the Court, Dean's friends gathered around him to offer their congratulations. The rush towards him was so great that with difficulty he kept has feet. He managed, at lack, to retreat to the corner of the reorn near the Judge's bench, when Judge Davies took him by the hand and tendered his compliments. The crowd all wanted to do likewise, and such was their cagorness that poor Dean was pushed out of the court room. He evidently felt frightened, and sped down stairs to the street, the crowd at his heels cheering him lustily. He was chased ever to Centre street, against the side of a dwelling, but with great effort he broke through the mob and ran through Chambers street, towards Broadway. At this juncture he was seized by Judge Davies, who jerked him into a coach standing by, entered himself, and the two were driven off, the crowd in their wake yelling like Indians.

They stopped at the Judge's residence a short time, when Dean proceeded to the house of Mr. Spencer, his counsel, in Twenty-fourth street, to await the bour when It will substand, which Mr. Boker agreed to do at eight o'clock in the evening.

Meanwhile several hundred persons had collected around Mr. Boker's house, anxious to see the noted bride. At the appointed hour, Mr. Bertholf reappeared for the hady, and after much trouble in getting her through the crowd to the carriage, and extraordinary exertions on the part of Barney, the driver, in dodging through eroes streets to excape the curiodty bunters, she was safely conveyed to Mr. Bertholf and bis mill bunters, the was some of Mr. Bertholf and bear an interview in presence of Mr. Bertholf and bis mill bunters, the driver, in dodging through eroes streets to make the bash of a himfully engaged to return to her mother that hight, M

But Mrs. Desn objected, as she had faithfully engaged to return to her mother that night. Much other conversation occurred as to their future prospects and manner of living. Mr. Bertholf asked the lady if she fully realized the hardships which ber new position would entail upon her, dec. How would she like to get up at 5 o clock in the morning to get a mechanic's breakfast? and would it not he repugnant to her feelings to go to market with a basket in one hand and fifty cents in the other to procure their daily food, with other similar questions. She answered in the true lover's way, she could do all this and more for the man of her choice. His earnings at his trade (he is a slip-carpenter), with what she made by teaching music and the languages, would amply support them. After a while Mr. Spepter suggested that, as the young couple would probably like a private conversation before they separated for the nicht, one should be accorded. The suggestion was acceted upon, and they were left to themselves. Some hourstater, Mrs. Dean was eccorted to her father's house hy Mr. Bertholf, and her husband left for his home.

It is the intention of the pair to start early for Lonisville, Ky., where Dean has a brother-in-law in business, and where he also hopes to live in happiness with his bride.

The Surrogate of New York has granted the application of the public administrator to sell the furniture of Dr. Burdell remaining at No. 31 Bond st. As to the alleged interest by Mrs. Cunningham and her daughters in the temporary use of this furniture till the 1st of next May, he referred them for remedy to the courts of law.

Gen. Sanford, counsel for the contestants of the will of Jas. Turner, the former circus proprietor of this city, yesterday, stated on behalf of the contestants that they would pursue the contest no further. The Surrogate thereupon ordered that the will be admitted to probate at once, and letters testamentary granted to the executor. The whole estate—some $60,000—thus goes into the possession of Mr. Levi J. North, the partner of Mr. Turner at the time of his death, and his sole legatee.—N. Y. Times.

SHOOTING AND PROBABLE KILLING ON THE LE-SHOOTING AND PROBABLE KILLING ON THE LE-VEE.—A difficulty occurred last evening about seven o'clock, on the levee, near the steamer Republic, in which a deck-hand was shot in the hand and abdo-men by the mate of that steamer. We understand the cause of the difficulty was a dispute of the mate and some other officers of the boat with the deck-tants, about their wages. The latter felt outraged, and, as they were leaving the boat, used very abu-tive language toward the officers. The mate fol-lowed them, and after they had got out on the levee lowed them, and after they had got out on the levee he stood upon the staging and fired a pistol into the crowd. The ball took effect as stated above. After the occurrence the hands and their friends mustered on the levee and threatened the boat with a mob, but did not make any positive demonstrations. The mate's name is French Louis.—St. Louis Democrat.
